Description

A large, oval platform cut into the western side of Twyn Carn Canddo. The platform is orientated north-south along the contours of the hill and measures approximately 7m x 6m and is 1m deep on the uphill side. The oval shape would suggest that this is possibly a prehistoric house platform rather than a medieval structure. The site was discovered by Mr. Ian Fewings of the Aberystroth History and Archaeology Society (AHAS).

Management

The site stands within enclosed rough pasture.
